Dear E.R.

I do hope you and your friends enjoyed your holidays over here and that the nice and sunny weather followed you during the whole trip.

I have been studying the book you so kindly brought me, more closely and I find it just fantastic knowing how to read it one does not have problems anymore.

About the sauce to the salmon I got you two recepies. The first is from a friend of mine who never measures what she uses, so you have to do it by taste:

For 10 persons: 3 yolks of eggs stir with 1 tablesp. sugar. 1 teaspoon salt closely and I find it just fantastic knowing how to read it one does not have problems anymore.

About the sauce to the salmon I got you two recepies. The first is from a friend of mine who never measures what she uses, so you have to do it by taste:

For 10 persons. 3 yolks of eggs stir with 1 tablesp sugar. 1 teaspoon salt 1/4 cup ordinary vinaiger 1/2 cup ordinary mustard 2 tablespoons mayonnaise a lot of small cut dill. Leave it for 4 hours and taste it again. If too rich add a little water. Should be thinner than mayonnaise.

The other recipe says: for 4 pers.
Whip 1 tablespoon vinaiger 3 tablespoons oil

½ teasp salt, celer mustard together. 3 tablespoons sweet french dill. Add a lot of small cut out of one of them! I do hope something good may come

Do remember me to your friends and to Barbara.

Very sincerely
Yours
Sonia

FANCY ROLLS

1/2 cup sugar
1 Tbsp. salt
3/4 cup shortening
2 eggs
1 yeast cake
1 cup mashed potatoes and water
1 cup scalded milk
6 cups flour (about)--enough to make medium stiff dough.

Knead, set aside to rise until double in bulk.

Knead, and make into rolls 1 hour before baking.

Remaining dough can be refrigerated for later use.

delicacies.

CHIVE-CUCUMBER SAUCE FOR FISH

[1⅔ cups]

½ teaspoon mustard
½ teaspoon warm water
2 tablespoons dried chives
1 cup grated cucumber, drained
3 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon black pepper
1 cup mayonnaise

Blend mustard with warm water; let stand 10 minutes. Add — along with chives — cucumber, lemon juice, salt, and pepper to mayonnaise and blend well. Chill. Serve over baked or poached fish, or as a dressing on fish salad.

Chive butter is delicious on steak as well as fish. Make it by moistening a tablespoon of the dried chives with 1½ teaspoons warm water and blending the mixture into a softened stick [¼ pound] of butter or margarine. Keep this mixture covered in the refrigerator and put a dab on each broiled steak. Serve with corn on the cob, on asparagus or green beans, or another green vegetable.

SPINACH CASSEROLE (Helen Sickle)

3 10 oz. pkgs. chopped, frozen spinach
1 lb. fresh mushrooms
1 can cream mushroom soup
~~salt, fresh ground pepper, garlic~~

Topping;
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise (Hellman's)
2 Tbsp. lemon juice (use 1 T.)

Cook spinach as directed on pkg. only until thawed, put into wooden bowl and chop finer. Remove stems from mushrooms--reserve 16 whole caps--chop all mushroom stems and ~~XXXXX~~ caps, and saute in butter in a pan. Heat soup in another pan, and add mushrooms to it. + Spinach -
Mix soup and mushroom mixture (with seasonings) and spoon into an oven-proof serving dish. Spread topping over, and place whole mushroom caps in pattern. Sprinkle lightly with paprika, and heat in 375 degree oven for about 20 minutes.

LEMON CRUMB SQUARES (Bettye Stone)

1 15 oz. czn sweetened condensed milk
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
1 tsp. baking powder
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 tsp. salt
2/3 cup butter
1 cup dark brown sugar, firmly packed
1 cup uncooked oatmeal
Blend together juice, milk and rind of lemon and set aside. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. Cream shortening, blend in sugar. Add oatmeal and flour mixture and mix until crumbly. Spread 1/2 the mixture in an 8x12x2 inch buttered baking pan and pat down; spread condensed milk mixture over top and cover with remaining crumb mixture. Bake at 350 degrees until brown around edges--about 25 minutes) Cool in pan at room temperature for 15 minutes and cut in 1 3/4 inch squares and chill in pan until firm.

LEMON FLUFF — Amanda

Soak 1 Tbsp. gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water
1 cup cold water
Beat 7 egg yolks with 1 cup sugar
Grate rind of 2 lemons
Juice of 3 lemons
Put egg mixture and lemons in double boiler-let cook until it starts to thicken. Beat egg whites after mixture is cool. Roll 3/4 lb. vanilla wafers-add 1/3 cup butter. Let set for 2 hours.

MOUSSE — K. Teller

1 can Milnot
1 pkg. Jello (preferably lemon)
1 cup sugar
Line spring form with Graham, cracker, brown sugar and butter.
Dissolve 1 pkg. Jello in 1 cup hot water. Let stand until it thicken-about 1 hour, then beat. 1 can chilled Milnot and 1 cup sugar-beat separately. Add juice of 1 lemon or 1 orange and grated rind to Milnot--pourboth ingredients into one and beat together until quite stiff-then pour into spring form on Graham cracker base, and put into ice box for 4 or 5 hours.

LEMON MERINGUE PIE

Bottom-----
4 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar
Beat very stiff. Bake one hour at low heat--200 degrees--in buttered pie pan or spring form.

Filling-----
Grated rind and juice of 1 1/2 lemons
1 cup sugar
add to 6 beaten egg yolks
Beat 2 egg whites separately
Cook custard in top of double boiler until thick. Cool.
Fold in beaten whites, and fill meringue shell.
Make pie night before if needed for lunch--or in morning if needed for dinner.
Top with whipped cream

LEMON PIE (Jack La Rosa)

2 graham cracker pie crusts
Mix by hand;
1 can frozen lemonade (thawed)
1 can Bordens Eagle Brand milk
1 package Cool Whip (large)
Mix well and refrigerate

CHERRY CHEESE PIE (Jack La Rosa)

Crust;
3 cups cocoa Krispies
1/4 cup white Karo syrup
1 Tbsp. margarine
Use 2 quart pot--heat syrup and butter until it bubbles. Remove from heat--mix in Krispies until well coated. Use 10 inch well greased pie pan--press crust into bottom, and on sides. Refrigerate at least 1 hour.
Cheese filling;
8 oz. and 4 oz. cream cheese, softened
1 can sweetened condensed milk
1/3 cup lemon juice
Beat cream cheese with electric beater-gradually adding milk and lemon juice until mixture is smooth.
Pour into chilled crust, and chill at least 1 hour.
Topping;
1 can Comstock cherry pie filling
Spoon onto chilled cheese filling
Refrigerate at least 1 hour, before serving.

PATE (Helen Nast)

1 4 1/2 cab deviled ham
1 can beef consomme
1 8 oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 pkg. Knox gelatin
Horseradish
Worcestershire

Dissolve gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water, and add to warmed (not hot) consomme.

Butter a ring mold (or other) well. Pour in 1/2 of consomme and put in refrigerator to solidify.

Blend cheese and ham, 1 tsp. horseradish and Worcestershire to taste well,

Add rest of consomme and mix well. Add to chilled consomme in mold. Place in refrigerator 3 to 4 hours.

Serve sliced on toast rounds or crackers.

OLIVES AND MUSHROOMS IN OIL (Kay M..)

1 10 1/2 oz. jar green stuffed olives
2 or 3 jars whole button mushrooms dill weed
garlic (salt or powder)
celery seed
mustard seed, if desired
Place this in a quart jar and add 2 to 3 Tbsp. olive juice, and cover with oil. (Wesson or Mazola)
Leave mixture out of refrigerator, but in cool place. Add olives and mushrooms as needed to same oil and spices.

BLUE CHEESE APPETIZER

1/4 lb. (plus) blue cheese
1 can chopped ripe olives
Sherry wine to taste
Dash brandy
Blend--form into ball--serve with crackers.

SHRIMPS NANETTE

2 lbs. cooked shrimp
1 pt. Miracle Whip
1/3 cup lemon juice
1 Tbsp. sugar (to taste)
3 or 4 Tbsp. sour cream
Sweet onion thinly sliced (to tas##)
Dill weed---quite a lot.

HERRING APPETIZER (Helen Sickle)

1 large jar herring in wine sauce
Drain and cut in bite size pieces
1 cup sour cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 Tbsp. celery seed
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
2 tsp. sugar (to taste)
1 green pepper (cut in small pieces)
2 large sweet onions (diced)
1 can pitted ripe olives (cut up)
2 large carrots (sliced)
Place in jar in refrigerator, and let marinate.

TOASTED CHEESE APPETIZER (Helen Sickle)

1 XXloaf thin-sliced sandwich bread
2 jars Old English cheese (Kraft)
2 sticks butter (scant)
1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
dash Tabasco
Let cheese and butter stand at room temperature. Mix until light and fluffy like whipped cream----add Worcestershire and Tabasco.
Make a sandwich of two slices of bread with cheese mix between. When sandwich is made, cut off crusts and cut in four squares or fingers. Frost each small sandwich on all but bottom side with remaining cheese mix. Put in refrigerator to set.
These can be frozen, and taken out as needed. Shoe box, lined with wax paper is good to use to freeze.
Bake at 350 degrees for 15 or 20 minutes, or until browned lightly.

Easy fare for hot weather

DO YOU ENJOY asparagus with hollandaise sauce or eggs benedict? Sour cream makes an easy mock hollandaise that will keep in your refrigerator up to two weeks. Melt 1/4 cup butter over medium heat. Whisk in 1 cup sour cream and 2 teaspoons flour. Add 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice, then whisk in 4 egg yolks. Heat over low heat, beating constantly, about 5 minutes, or until slightly thickened. Use warm or refrigerate and reheat at serving time. You'll have about 1 2/3 cups mock hollandaise sauce.

Iced tea is a warm weather standard. This recipe, though, has a party touch. Place 2 cups cold strong tea in blender with 1 pint lemon sherbet and 2 tablespoons grenadine syrup. Cover, blend at high speed to preferred consistency. Serve in tall cold glasses with a lemon-slice garnish.

The creamy good flavor of butterscotch is matched with golden delicious apples in this easy recipe. It's delightful on its own or served with scoops of vanilla ice cream. Peel, core, and quarter 8 golden delicious apples. Arrange in shallow baking pan. Mix 1/4 cup flour, 1/3 cup brown sugar, and 1/4 cup granulated sugar. Cut in 1/4 cup butter or margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 cup water. Mix well, spread over apple slices, cover with foil. Bake at 350 degrees 1 hour. Makes about 6 dessert servings.

CUCUMBER SOUP

(Life magazine)

4 cucumbers
1/2 cup chopped parsley
4 scallions, white part only
2 quarts buttermilk
1 quart sour cream
2 tsp. salt
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup fresh dill

Cut 12 thin, unpeeled slices from one cucumber and set aside. Peel, seed and chop the remainder of that cucumber, plus 3 ~~XX~~ others. Place 1/2 the cucumber in an electric blender. Moisten each batch of cucumber to be blended with a cup of buttermilk. Blend, adding the parsley and scallions. P Pour the pureed cucumber into a large bowl, a and with a wire whisk beat in the remaining buttermilk, sour cream, lemon juice, salt. Refrigerate. Serve from large tureen--- or in bowls---garnushed with cucumber slices and dill.

1 can vegetable soup, undiluted
1 can bouillon, undiluted or consomme
Put through strainer.

Wet hands and make into balls. Put gently into stack. Cook for 2 hours. Add seasoning to fish.

FISH IN MASQUERADE

Shrimp Sauce

Make a rich white sauce, using part cream and part milk. To 1 cup sauce add ½ cup cooked or canned shrimps, cut in halves, and ¼ teaspoon paprika. Good with any bland fish like halibut, flounder, or pompano.

Sauce Normande

Melt 3 tablespoons fat, add 3 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon salt and a few grains pepper. Mix well. Add 1 cup hot fish stock gradually, and cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly to keep smooth. Add ½ cup cream and 2 beaten egg yolks, and cook 2 minutes. Add 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire. Good with broiled salmon or baked fillet of sole (flounder).

Oyster Sauce

Fry small oysters in a little fat for 3 minutes. Add a little cream and heat thoroughly. This is delicious with any broiled or baked white fish.

Lemon Butter Sauce

Melt ½ cup butter with 1 clove garlic, and brown slightly. Remove garlic. Add juice 1 lemon and 3 tablespoons chopped parsley. Heat thoroughly. For baked mackerel, lake trout, scrod (baby codfish), and blue fish.

Cheese Sauce

Add ½ cup grated cheese to 1 cup of hot white sauce. If desired add 2 teaspoons Worcestershire Sauce. An excellent extender for fillets.

Tomato Sauce

Cook 1 cup canned tomatoes for 20 minutes with 1 stalk celery, 1 slice onion, ½ teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire. Rub through a sieve and add few grains cayenne. Add this to 1 cup white sauce. Fine with fresh cod.

Egg Sauce

Chop 2 hard cooked eggs and add to 1 cup rich medium thick sauce. Heat thoroughly. If desired, this sauce may be varied by adding chopped parsley, lemon juice or Worcestershire. Very nice with boiled cod.

Tartar Sauce

Mix 1 cup mayonnaise with 1 tablespoon each chopped parsley, chopped pickle, chopped capers, chopped olives, and 1 teaspoon onion juice. Chill thoroughly before using. Serve with fried scallops, fillets, smelts or oysters.

Cucumber Sauce

Beat ½ cup cream until stiff, and season with salt and pepper. Peel 1 cucumber and discard seeds. Chop fine and drain well. Beat into the cream. Chill. A little horse-radish may be added, if desired. This is delicious served with cold or hot flounder or broiled fresh salmon.

Hollandaise Sauce

Divide ½ cup butter in 3 pieces. Put one piece in saucepan with 2 egg yolks and 1½ tablespoons lemon juice. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until butter is melted. Add second piece of butter, and as the mixture thickens add the third piece. Add ½ cup boiling water slowly, then ½ teaspoon salt and a few grains cayenne. If mixture curdles, add 2 tablespoons boiling water very slowly. Serve with boiled halibut or other white fish.

FISH MOUSSE (Bess Rosenthal)

2 pkgs. Knoxx gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
Dissolve and heat over hot water
1 can tomato soup
1 large Philadelphia cream cheese
1 cup mayonnaise
1 cup celery, cut fine
1/2 cup green onions, cut fine
1 Tbsp. horseradish
1 mashed hard-boiled egg
3 Tbsp. chili sauce
1 lb. fish, boiled and flaked (use halibut, whitefish, sole)

Heat soup and dissolve cream cheese. Add gelatin, cool, and add remaining ingredients. Put in mold, and cover with foil.

POACHED SALMON (Burhop's)

4 lb. center cut piece of salmon parchment paper string
1/2 stalk celery
2 Tbsp. vinegar
1 bay leaf
2 Tbsp. salt

Fill 4 quart kettle full of water. Add bay leaf, celery, vinegar, and salt. Bring to boil.

Wipe salmon with paper towel. Wrap and tie in wet parchment (the thin, white inner paper Burhop wraps around your fish).. Place in water and simmer (do not boil) for 40 minutes. Lift out, remove parchment and serve with lemon wedges.

SHRIMP IN POULETTE SAUCE

2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
3/4 cup chopped green onion
7 TBsp. butter
1/4 cup flour
1 can (10 3/4 Oz.) chicken broth
1 can (20 oz.) chunk pineapple, drained
1 lb. cooked, deveined jumbo shrimp
2 Tbsp. pale, dry sherry
1 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 1/2 tsp. seasoned salt
1 tsp. nutmeg
1/8 tsp. white pepper

Saute mushrooms and 1/2 cup of green onions in 3 Tbsp. butter in medium saucepan. Remove. Melt remaining butter in pan; blend in flour. Gradually stir in broth. Cook, stirring, until it thickens. Add remaining ingredients except uncooked green onion; heat through. Spoon over bread or pauff pastry; garnish with remaining green onion.

COLD SALMON WITH TARRAGON MAYONNAISE

(LifeMagazine)

1 salmon (8 lbs. with head and tail)
1 bottle dry white wine
6 quarts water
2 medium onions-each stuck with 2 whole cloves
1 Tbsp. salt
12 peppercorns, cracked
1 tsp. thyme
1 bay leaf
parsley
Tarragon mayonnaise (recipe below)

Wrap salmon in cheesecloth, mummy fashion. Run an additional unfolded length under the fish, leaving "handles" at each end. Pour wine and water into covered roaster or poacher.. Add remaining ingredients-bring stock to boil and let simmer 20 minutes. Lower salmon into broth, covering as much as possible-simmer--allowing 6 1/2 minutes cooking time per lb. Lift several times during cooking, to prevent sticking. When done, allow to cool in liquid for several minutes-then carefully lift out by cheesecloth handles, drain and lay it on large serving platter (or plank covered with foil). Cut away cheesecloth, and allow fish to cool about an hour--then remove cheesecloth from under it. Peel off top skin with a sharp knife--taking care to peel off dark, oily flesh to expose pink meat, but leave skin on head and tail--let stand several hours more. Serve cool, with tarragon mayonnaise and garnish with cherry tomatoes and lemon slices and cucumber slices. To serve, carefully remove top half of fish from spinal bone in serving pieces. Then snip bone with scissors near head and tail. Lift off bone to cut underside in serving pieces.

TARRAGON MAYONNAISE (over)

TARRAGON MAYONNAISE

6 egg yolks
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 tsp. salt
2 tsp. dry mustard
3 cups salad oil
1 cup olive oil
1 2 oz. can flat anchovy fillets, drained
3 green onions, chopped
3/4 cup chopped parsley
3/4 cup chopped chives
1/3 cup chopped fresh tarragon---or--
3 Tbsp. dried tarragon
3/4 cup tarragon vinegar

Beat egg yolks for about 2 minutes until yolks are sticky. Beat in lemon juice, salt and dried mustard. When they are blended, add one cup of the oil (by tsps.) then add rest of oil by Tbsps. Mash the anchovy fillet with a fork, and stir into mayonnaise. Stir in green onions, parsley, chives, fresh tarragon and vinegar. If you substitute dried tarragon, soak it in the tarragon vinegar, and stir it in with the vinegar.. Chill.

PAN FRIED RAINBOW TROUT ROCKY MOUNTAIN STYLE

Rinse and dry trout. Use cornmeal, salt, and pepper to cover trout. Pan should contain enough peanut oil or vegetable oil to cover one-half of trout. Oil should be hot but not smoking. If oil is correct temperature, trout tail will sizzle when placed in hot oil. Place trout in pan so as not to touch other trout. When golden brown, turn with spatula and cook other side. Turn only once. Serve with sauce on a hot dish. Sauce Amandine, Sauce Rosemary, or a Butter Sauce all go well with this dish.

BAKED STUFFED RAINBOW TROUT

Saute mushrooms, chopped onions, chopped parsley until light yellow color in butter. Toss with bread crumbs, add seasoning. Stuff trout cavities and place in greased baking pan. Brush with butter, bake 25 to 35 minutes at 400°. Serve hot.

BROILED RAINBOW TROUT

Butter pan. Place buttered trout seasoned with salt, pepper and paprika next to each other in pan. Place pan three to four inches below broiler and broil until done without turning. A good test is to split one of the trout along the backbone and if the trout is done, the meat is juicy and white. It will take about 8 minutes cooking time to broil the trout. A sauce of Parsley or Watercress Butter adds a flavorful touch. Be sure to serve hot. You may use your electric rotisserie for broiling trout also.

Sauces for Rainbow Trout

SAUCE AMANDINE

For six trout, melt ¼ cup butter, add ½ cup blanched slivered almonds and cook until almonds are brown. Pour sauce over trout or serve with trout. Lemon juice and parsley may be added to this sauce if desired.

SAUCE ROSEMARY

For six trout, melt ¼ cup of butter, add, to taste, a small amount of Rosemary. Bring to a foamy mixture by beating. Pour sauce over trout or serve with trout.

PARSLEY, WATERCRESS or HERB BUTTER

For six trout, melt ¼ cup butter, add ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¾ tablespoon lemon juice, 2 tablespoons parsley or watercress. Place over trout or serve with trout. To make Herb Butter use chives and chervil in place of parsley or watercress.

TAKE ONE

1. Slip a butter knife along the entire length of the backbone, steadying the fish with your fork.

2. Tail section and bones are gently lifted away from bottom fillet. With knife separate head from bottom fillet and lay top fillet, skin side down, on plate.

3. Tail, bones and head can now be lifted away. Be careful to take bone structure out in one complete section.

4. Two delicious trout fillets, side by side, are now ready to eat.

Ripe olives, halved

Day before, if desired:

1. Clean, then cook shrimp; refrigerate.
2. In small bowl, with back of spoon, mash together garlic, salt, mustard, and cayenne. Remove yolks from hard-cooked eggs; set aside whites. On fine grater, grate yolks into garlic mixture; add uncooked yolk; blend well.
3. Add lemon juice, vinegar, and oil; beat with egg beater until well blended and slightly thickened. Stir in reserved egg whites, chopped; anchovies; and celery. Refrigerate this dressing, covered.

About 1 hr. before serving:

1. Toss shrimp with dressing; refrigerate till well chilled.
2. Then heap salad into romaine-lined salad bowl; top with olive halves. Makes 2 servings.

Nice with a cup of hot tomato soup, crisp crackers, old-fashioned peach shortcake, and iced instant tea.

1 can (2 oz.) anchovies-drained and chopped
2 Tbsp. capers
2 Tbsp. chopped parsley
2 Tbsp. pimiento
1 tsp. onion powder
1/2 tsp. seasoned salt
1/4 tsp. paprika
1/4 tsp. dry mustard
1/8 tsp. pepper
Cover and shake well.
Shake again just before using.
Makes about 1 cup dressing.

CREAM GARLIC DRESSING (Cottage Restaurant)

1 quart mayonnaise
3 very finely crushed garlic cloves
1/2 cup half-and half
1/2 tsp. salt
1 Tbsp. dry sherry
The garlic should be crushed in a garlic press, or very finely minced. The half-and-half should be added a little at a time until the desired consistency is obtained.
After stirring, chill.

Take ½ cup Whipping Cream, whip it stiff and fold it into 1 cup mayonnaise that's been blended with ¼ cup honey. A delicious dressing for fruit salad, and perfect for "24-hour salad" (diced fruits, marshmallows, almonds chill in the dressing overnight for a June treat).

Take ½ cup Whipping Cream, whip it stiff and fold into 1 cup mayonnaise that's been blended with 1 Tablesp. lemon juice, 1 teasp. dry mustard and a dash cayenne. Serve with cooked or raw vegetable salads, slaws, and sea food.

Take 1 cup Cottage Cheese, press it through a sieve and mix with 2 Tablesp. vinegar or lemon juice, 1 teasp. salt; 1 Tablesp. green onion tops, ½ cup salad oil . . . and it's delightful on tomatoes, cucumbers, fruit or greens. Simple?

Take 1 cup Buttermilk, and add it to 2 Tablesp. sugar, 1 teasp. salt, ¼ teasp. pepper, 1½ teasp. garlic salt, ½ teasp. dry mustard and dash of cayenne; then blend in ¼ cup vinegar, ½ teasp. Worcestershire and beat till smooth. You'll go for this served on crisp slaw, salad greens or tomatoes.

Take 1 scant cup Buttermilk, and use 3 Tablesp. of it to blend with 2 Tablesp. flour, ½ teasp. salt, 1 teasp. dry mustard, 1 Tablesp. sugar and pinch of cayenne, till smooth, and place in top of double boiler. Add rest of buttermilk and 1 beaten egg. Cook till thick, stirring constantly. Blend in 1 Tablesp. butter and 2 of vinegar. Chill. Oh, what this does to a potato salad!

Take 1 cup Sour Cream, and stir in 2 Tablesp. wine vinegar, 1 or 2 Tablesp. sugar, ½ teasp. salt and a dash of celery seed. This is gourmet stuff on diced raw vegetables . . . just right for crisp and tangy "Farmer's Chop Suey."

Take 1 cup Sour Cream, and add it to the following cooked mixture: In top of double boiler mix ½ teasp. dry mustard, 1 teasp. salt, 1 Tablesp. each flour and sugar, dash of cayenne, ¼ cup each vinegar and water. Cook till thick, mix a spoonful into 1 egg yolk, return to double boiler and cook 1 min. more. Cool, add the sour cream, then chill. June-good on head lettuce wedges, fruit or sliced tomatoes.

SPRINGTIME SALAD BUFFET

Just help yourself to everybody's favorite salad combination, golden cling peaches and creamy cottage cheese. Then sprinkle on one or more garnishes of your choosing. (This is a wonderful way to interest youngsters in salad-eating!)

Some good ones to try: miniature marshmallows, vivid cranberry sauce, salted raisins, chopped preserved ginger, grated carrots, slivered almonds. Arrange on individual dishes on tray for attractive serving.

QUICK, ELEGANT DESSERT

Heat cling peaches in their own syrup. Serve hot, in a chafing dish if possible. Offer your guests one, or a variety of toppings as listed below:

Spicy Cinnamon Topping

- 1 c. sour cream
- 2½ Tbsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- ⅛ tsp. nutmeg
- ¼ c. diced almonds

Combine cream, sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg. Serve on hot cling peaches. Sprinkle with almonds.

Orange Cream Topping

- 1 c. sour cream
- 2 tsp. grated orange rind
- 2 tsp. lemon juice
- ⅛ tsp. salt

Combine all ingredients. Serve on hot cling peaches.

And serve all sorts of garnishes with these toppings. Try chopped candied ginger, toasted coconut, slivered almonds, grated orange rind, or chopped fresh dates.

BE A BETTER COOK WITH SOUR CREAM!

Delectable Dressings. Exciting new flavor for baked potatoes, vegetables, and salads.

Fresh Chives: Top baked potato with sour cream; garnish with chopped chives.

Zippy Bleu Cheese: Cream finely shredded bleu cheese with sour cream; perfect accent for potatoes or spinach.

Bacon Cream: Crumble 3 or 4 strips of broiled bacon into 1 cup sour cream, add onion salt and tabasco to taste.

Horse-Radish: Mix ½ cup sour cream with 2 tsp. horse-radish, ¼ tsp. salt, ½ tsp. sugar, ½ tsp. curry powder. For vegetable or green salad.

Currant Jelly: Combine ½ cup sour cream with ¼ cup beaten currant jelly, 1 Tbsp. lemon juice, ⅛ tsp. salt. Use with fruit salad.

UPSIDE DOWN ICE CREAM CAKE

1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail
1 quart vanilla ice cream
1 baked chocolate cake layer
(8- or 9-inch round)

Drain fruit cocktail; spread on bottom of 8- or 9-inch round cake pan. Spoon ice cream over fruit. Top with cake layer. Wrap in foil and freeze. To serve, unwrap and dip pan in warm water until cake can be rotated. Turn onto serving plate. Makes 6 to 9 servings.

SUMMERTIME PARTY QUICKIES!

Add fresh orange sections to drained, chilled canned fruit cocktail. Spoon into sherbet glasses. Mix together following ingredients; spoon over fruit.

1 c. sour cream
2 tsp. grated orange rind
2 tsp. lemon juice
⅛ tsp. salt

Add banana slices to canned fruit cocktail. Serve in dessert dishes crowned with Rum Topping as follows:

1 c. sour cream
1 tsp. rum extract or rum to taste
⅛ tsp. salt
Garnish with ¼ c. chopped fresh dates.

Compote of peaches

THERE ISN'T A single summertime day when a fresh compote of peaches doesn't seem exactly right. Whether warm, blazing hot, or cool, the refreshingly light, cool, slightly sweet taste of peaches in a compote liquid is delicious. The riper the peach, the more luscious the compote, so look for peaches with no green in the stem end. For the compote, have 8 large ripe peaches; peel and pit them. Combine 2 cups water, 1 cup orange juice, 1/3 cup lemon juice, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons red cinnamon candies, 12 whole cloves, and 1 cinnamon stick in large saucepan. Add peaches; simmer gently 10 minutes, or until peaches are easily pierced. Cool peaches in syrup. Cover; chill until served. Serve over ice cream, a light cake, or with cookies. Makes eight servings.

POTATO SALAD RECIPE

You will have to use your own judgment to a certain extent as to the amount you desire to make at this particular time for we of course make ours in such large quantities these proportions would be of little use to the average household.

For the average table — would say take about ten (10) potatoes. Boil with the jackets on, peel, cool and dice. To this amount add two cupsful of finely diced celery and two cupsful of finely diced onions. Salt and pepper to taste, adding a little sugar and vinegar to taste as well.

Lastly, add — two cupsful of finely ground chow chow — (sweet mustard pickles) which you run thru the fine grinder of your food chopper and this mixed well with the above which acts as the sauce, will result in your potato salad.

RED KIDNEY BEAN SALAD

We use the S & W Red Kidney bean. Take as much as you want to make at this particular time — one or two cans.

Wash real well in cold water so as to wash away the starch.

To this add diced celery and diced onions — as much as you would like at this time. Then we make a vinegar dressing — using only white vinegar — not the cider vinegar, just keep adding sugar to this until it clears. Then we add a drop of cooking oil — just a little. To this drop your beans, celery and onions and mix well and you have the famous kidney bean salad.

AVOCADO RING MOLD (Tribune)

1 1lb. can grapefruit sections
2 pkgs. lime gelatin
2 cups hot water
cold water
juice of 1 lemon
1 avocado
1 tomAto, cut in eighths
1 lb. large curd cottage cheese
1 tsp. grated onion
1 Tbsp. sugar
1 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. pepper

Drain grapefruit and reserve juice. Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add enough grapefruit juice to make 1 cup. Add water with lemon juice to gelatin. Chill until slightly thickened. Peel avocado, remove seed, and slice each half into 8 crosswise semi-circles. Reserve 8 grapefruit sections and 8 avocado circles. Dice remaining fruit. Pour a thin layer of gelatin into a 6 cup ring mold. Arrange tomato wedges grapefruit, and avocado alternately in mold and chill until firm. Cover with another thin layer of gelatin and chill again until firm. Mix remaining gelatin with diced fruit, cheese, onion, and seasonings. Pour over fruit and chill until firm.

Dilled Carrots

Use baby carrots if you can get them. If not, pare large carrots down into small ovals by using a vegetable scraper. Try to get fresh dill. If you can't, substitute dried dill weed in the marinade, and dust the finished carrots with chopped parsley.

As for the mushrooms, buy the smallest ones you can. Look for ones that are tightly furled—on which you can see very little of the dark pleating between the cap and the stem; this is a sign of freshness.

2 bunches carrots
1 cup white vinegar
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
Freshly ground black pepper
2 tablespoons chopped fresh dill
or one teaspoon dried dill weed and one tablespoon chopped parsley.

Drop the carrots into boiling water and cook until just tender, about 10–15 minutes. Drain them and place them in a small bowl. Combine the vinegar, sugar, salt, pepper and one tablespoon chopped fresh dill or one teaspoon of dill weed and pour over the carrots. Cover and refrigerate overnight. Drain and serve sprinkled with the remaining tablespoon of chopped fresh dill or with the parsley.

GREEN BEANS AL FRESCO (salad)

Crush 1 clove garlic to smooth paste with 1/4 tsp. dried dill, 2 tsp. seasoned salt. Add 1/2 tsp. seasoned pepper, 1 tsp. grated lemon rind, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 3/4 cup salad oil; shake hard in closed jar. Add 1 tsp. chopped pimiento and 6 sliced fresh mushrooms--or 1/4 cup drained canned mushrooms.

Pour liquid off 2 cans cut green beans--- mix beans with dressing---chill.

Serve beans with seafood salad on lettuce. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

TARRAGON DEVILED EGGS IN ASPIC

6 hard-cooked eggs---deviled
2 cans Campbells consomme (with gelatin)
1 Tbsp. Tarragon vinegar
Tarragon leaves, crushed
1 Tbsp. gelatin

Put gelatin in small amount od consomme and beat to dissolve. Add it to remaining consomme along with other gelatin and other ingredients.

Cover bottom of mold with small amount of mixture--and chill until slightly set. Place eggs in pattern in mold---add other gelatin and refrigerate until set.

Potatoes anna

Six servings

6 medium baking potatoes, pared, thinly sliced (⅛ inch)
Ice water
Softened butter, about 2 tablespoons
½ cup butter, melted
1 tablespoon grated onion, optional
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Put potatoes in ice water as they are sliced. Drain well and pat dry with paper towel before using. Generously butter bottom and sides of heavy 10-inch skillet, 2 inches deep. It should have a tight-fitting lid and heat-resistant handle. If you do not have a lid, use heavy duty foil. Toss potatoes with melted butter, onion, and seasonings. Line bottom and sides of skillet with overlapping slices of potato; arrange in circular pattern. Use potatoes of same size for edge and bottom layer, as this will be top of mold. Layer remaining potatoes over bottom layer. Cook, uncovered on high heat about 3 to 5 minutes to lightly brown outside layer. Watch carefully to avoid burning. Cover pan tightly. Bake at 425 degrees 30 minutes. Uncover and bake 15 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before unmolding on heated serving platter. Loosen sides and bottom with spatula. Turn upside down on platter. Cut in wedges to serve.

can make it when oysters are in season in your part of the country.

FOR ZELMA'S OYSTER STEW, you'll need for 4 persons ½ pint (1 cup) milk, 1½ pints (3 cups) cream and 1½ pints oysters with their liquor. The fresher the oysters are — the more recently opened — the better your stew will be. Heat the milk and cream with the oyster liquor, salt and pepper to taste and a dash or two of hot pepper sauce. Melt 4 to 6 tablespoons butter (be sure to have plenty), take your oysters and (Here's the secret.) toss them into the butter when it's bubbling and shake the pan vigorously until the oysters just curl at the edges. Don't overcook them; they should just heat through. When the milk and cream come to the boiling point, combine the delicately sauteed oysters with the liquid, taste for seasoning and serve in warmed bowls with crisp buttered toast or a selection of crackers. Tossing the oysters in the butter first makes all the difference. I suggest doubling this recipe to begin with because I'm sure everyone will want seconds.

Oysters, with their wondrous flavor, are perfect in a stew or a soup, a stuffing or a sauce, and incredibly good when combined with other things as, for instance, in a beefsteak and kidney pie.

CHICKEN AND SHRIMP JAMBALAYA

(Tribune)

2 Tbsp. butter or margarine
1 chicken, cut up
1 large onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1 1/2 cups regular rice

3/4 tsp. thyme
1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper or Tabasco
2 small green peppers, cut in strips
1/2 lb. fresh or frozen chrimp, cleaned
1/2 lb. ham, cubed

Heat butter in heavy saucepan or skillet. Brown chicken,and transfer to shallow casserole. Add onion and garlic to skillet, and saute over medium heat, stirring often, 3 to 5 minutes. Add rice, cook until rice is opaque but not brown--about 5 minutes. Stir in tomatoes, broth, parsley, salt and thymeand cayenne. Heat just to boil, and pour over chicken. Cover, bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes. Stir gently to blend rice and chicken--add peppers, shrimp and ham; cover. Bake 30 to 40 minutes, stirring once or twice until chicken is tender. Garnish with parsley if desired. Serves 6 to 8.

Caesar Salad Becoming Favorite

BY ISABEL DU BOIS

Caesar salad is taking the country by storm. Both practical and delicious, it's a salad destined to remain a favorite of many.

Generally speaking it consists of a combination of fresh greens, tossed together lightly with a tangy dressing. Depending upon the season and the locale, tomatoes, cucumbers, green onions and radishes are added.

One ingredient always used is bread cubes, sauteed to a golden brown in garlic flavored olive oil, and sprinkled generously with Parmesan cheese. Characteristic too is the tangy dressing made from olive oil, garlic, Worcestershire sauce, raw egg, lemon juice and blue or Roquefort cheese.

CAESAR SALAD

Watercress
Lettuce
Curly endive
Tomatoes
Cucumbers
Radishes
Green onions
Bread cubes
Olive oil
Minced garlic
Parmesan cheese
Anchovy fillets (optional)

Prepare greens and vegetables as for tossed salad. Place bread cubes in frying pan with olive oil and minced garlic. Saute bread cubes to golden brown over medium heat. Remove them to mixing bowl and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Add salad greens, tomatoes, cucumbers, radishes, green onions and anchovy fillets. Toss lightly. Pour dressing over salad and toss until salad ingredients are coated with dressing.

CAESAR SALAD DRESSING

¾ cup olive oil
1 clove garlic
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 raw egg
2 tablespoons blue or roquefort cheese (optional)

Combine all ingredients for salad dressing and shake vigorously in a covered jar. Remove garlic clove before pouring over salad. Yield: 1 cup dressing.

BARBECUE SAUCE FOR LAMB

1 Tbsp. butter
1/2 bottle catsup
2 Tbsp. vinegar
juice of 1/2 lemon
Worcestershire
Mix thoroughly in a bowl.
When lamb is almost cooked, add this sauce and baste well. Serve separately as a gravy.

SAUCE FOR BAKED STEAK

chopped celery
1/2 green pepper, cut fine
1 onion
garlic kernels, chopped
pepper---salt
1 can tomato soup
1 can water
dry mustard
After steak has been browned in the broiler, put in the oven, add sauce, and baste. Serve over the meat.

SWEET AND SOUR SAUCE FOR TONGUE

1 cup liquid
6 ginger snaps
2 Tbsp. brown sugar
1 Tbsp. raisins
2 slices lemon, cut fine
2 Tbsp. vinegar
If this is not thick enough, add more ginger snaps.
Slice boiled tongue, and heat in sauce.

MINT SAUCE (Della)

1/4 cup vinegar
1 cup water
1 cup brown sugar
salt
Cook until syrup--then add chopped mint

SPAGHETTI A LA JEANNETTE

2 large onions
2 kernels garlic, chopped fine and sauteed in butter
1 can tomatoes
Worcestershire sauce
walnut catsup
much thick chicken or turkey gravy
sliced turkey and tongue-ham if desired
sliced mushrooms
when this has been thoroughly cooked, add the boiled spaghetti which has been rinsed well in ice cold water after cooking.
Serve with grated cheese on the side.

EGG PLANT CASSEROLE (Cecille)

Peel and cut egg plant in cubes, and cook in boiling salted water about 8 minutes.
Mix in casserole the following ingredients;
1 Number 2 can tomatoes
1 cup grated cheese
1 egg, beaten
butter
Top with cracker crumbs, place in oven at 350 degrees, and bake about 30 minutes.

CORN MEAL WAFFLES (Helen Sickle)

1 cup flour
1 cup yellow corn meal
3 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1 3/4 cup milk
2 eggs-beaten separately
If sour milk is used, dissolve 1 tsp. baking soda in it.

1 garlin pod — crushed and rubbed in pot
Melt ¼ lb. butter
2 tablespoons flour added to melted butter and blended
½ cup cream added and blended
1 cup milk added — allow mixture to bubble, add
¼ cup Kirsch
1 cup white wine
8 oz. Swiss cheese, grated
4 tablespoons grated sharp cheddar
2 teaspoons Worcestershire
10 drops tabasco
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste

Stir and blend well until hot and bubbly. Dip cubes of toasted bread, sausage balls, meat balls, fresh cauliflower buttons, whole radishes, carrot cubes, spring onions, cocktail sausages, pickle squares (a real taste treat) olives (ditto).

CHEESE FONDUE #2

Fraser's Style

1 clove garlic, cut in half
2 cups light, dry, white wine (such as Riesling, Chablis, or Traminer)
½ lb. imported Swiss cheese (Emmental) shredded
½ lb. Swiss or Danish Gruyere (Samsoe) shredded
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 teaspoon dry mustard (optional)
3 tablespoons Kirsch (optional)
Fresh ground nutmeg and pepper, to taste
1 small loaf French bread, cut in 1 inch cubes with crust on each

Rub sides and bottom of the Fondue Dish with the cut garlic. Add wine, and heat until bubbles form. Combine two cheeses, cornstarch and mustard and add a spoonful at a time. Stir slowly and continuously. Stir in Kirsch a tablespoon at a time and again bring to a slow boil. If the heat gets too high at any time the fondue may separate. Sprinkle in nutmeg and pepper to taste. Keep fondue bubbling slowly while dipping cubes of French bread. If fondue get too thick, thin with a little heated wine. Makes 4 servings.

No matter which way you slice it, cheese is i

By Edie Cohen

LABEL "LITTLE Miss Muffet" a trendsetter. Back in the 16th Century, she was feasting on curds and whey—forerunner of our cottage cheese, but more important, the basic ingredients of all cheeses.

More people than ever are following her example and making cheese a mainstay of their daily fare. Dairy Situation, the newsletter published by the United States Department of Agriculture, says Americans consumed an average of 16 pounds of cheese (domestic and imported) in 1976.

Why the increase in fromphiles (a Greek-derived word for cheese lovers)? John Stern, Stop & Shop's director of meats, including cheese and delicatessen products, believes "people picked up cheese as an alternative to meat in 1973 because of the increase in meat prices. It was a sentimental boycott, and I don't think meats have recovered.

"I've also noticed a trend in our gift businesses to more cheese than sausage products."

CHIEF CHEESEMONGER Patrick Collins, buyer for the seven Chalet Wine & Cheese Shops in the Chicago area, says the cheese phenomenon began in New York five or six years ago.

"With more people traveling to Europe, they picked up the idea of having wine, cheese, and bread, which is considered a substantial meal there. People began having wine and cheese parties — it started a chain reaction."

Another reason for cheese's increasing popularity is that it's a healthy and natural food, according to Marcia Baske, supervisor of the Chalet's employe training program and manager of the Highland Park store.

"We're a diet conscious nation," she said. "More fat-free cheeses are being developed; they are recent additions to the cheese scene."

And fat-free cheeses, such as gaperon and maigrelait, along with the soft-ripened and creme varieties, are in vogue among cheese lovers.

"THERE'S A BIG push to the soft-ripened cheeses, like brie and camembert, and the cremes, like bellelsle and boursin," Collins observes. "People are getting into serving something different. They want to impress their guests."

"The greatest romance behind cheeses is associated with the cheese from France," Baske says. "They're delicate and they come in a vast variety of textures and shapes. How can you get romantic about a piece of cheddar?"

Yet the cheeses that are most fashionable are not necessarily the most utilized in America. Cheddar, mozzarella, and swiss are the most popular cheeses, according to the National Cheese and Butter Institute.

But no matter how you slice it, each cheesemonger has his own system for classifying the thousands of cheeses from around the world. Collins groups the cheeses into eight categories: French, goat, sheep, the cheddars, swiss, the grana types, the blues, and table cheeses. Each cheese has its own here.

"FRANCE HAS 300 to 400 varieties of cheese, aside from the ones in little towns and villages that never make it to this country," Collins says.

French cheeses can be further divided into four types: semisoft, soft-ripened, cremes, and goat cheeses.

The semisoft variety includes port du salut, a cheese with a firm, buttery texture, with the flavor varying from mellow to robust depending upon the cheese's age; and bonbel, a very mild, pale gold cheese, like a bland port du salut.

Brie and camembert are the most famous soft-ripened cheeses. They are yellow in color, with a mild, but distinctive flavor. Other French soft-ripened cheeses are pont l'eveque, fairly strong in flavor with a yellow color, and coulommiers, a soft yellow cheese resembling brie in taste.

According to Collins, all the soft-ripened cheeses ripen from the outer crust inward. "You can't cut into these cheeses unless they're ripe," he explains. "When they become ripe, they take on a texture of thick honey."

MANY OF THE soft-ripened cheeses are double or triple cremes, which means they are very rich and have a butterfat content of 60 per cent or more.

Gourmandise, a double creme, is available with kirsch or walnut flavoring. Triple cremes, such as bellelsle (meaning beautiful island), explorateur, or boursin (a seasoned with herbs or pepper.

Goat cheeses from France have classic shapes resembling pyramids, cylinders, small plump ovals, or a creme caramel. The taste of these cheeses packs a punch. All have an unmistakably tart, pepperlike sting. As the cheese ages, this sting deepens and appears to acidify. After several months, the cheese has an ammoniated essence. Some are rolled in herbs, such as rosemary, anise, and fennel, while others are dusted with the ashes they've been cured in. Two of the more renowned goat's cheeses are St. Marcellin and montrachet.

Like their French cousins, goat's milk cheeses from other countries have a texture that is usually soft and fresh with little or no skin. Gjetost, from Norway, is caramel-chocolate in color, and can be found in well-stocked cheese stores.

WHILE MOST GOAT cheeses are eaten as either an appetizer or as a dessert, the majority of sheep cheeses are used for cooking or are table cheeses. Roquefort, the most celebrated sheep cheese, is sharp and spicy in flavor, and piquant in aroma. Greek feta and romano, from Italy, are other better-known sheep cheeses all having a crumbly texture.

On the other side of the world, the best cheddars are made by the U.S., Collins maintains. "Canada's are the next best, but they run neck-and-neck in sales. The more aged they are, the more flavor the cheese has."

England, too, produces a cheddar, as well as cheddar types, such as cheshire and double gloucester. France's entries are cantal, which has a creamy, firm texture, and mimolette, a ball shaped cheese with a bright orange color.

Swiss cheese, with its distinctive holes, is not symbolic of Switzerland. The country produces many kinds of cheese with no holes. The holes, known as eyes, are a natural result of the fermentation process and the rising of the cheese, according to Collins.

EMMENTHAL is the original Swiss cheese, and it has a tangy, nutty taste other countries try to copy, hence Norway's jarlsberg. Both Swiss and French gruyeres are categorized in the emmenthal flavor family. They have much in common, one is made on the Swiss side of the Jura Mountains, the other on the French side.

The most flavorful and aged swiss cheese is appenzeller. During the first four days of the aging process, the cheese is dipped in wine or cider.

Grana, meaning grain, refers to the grainy texture of a properly aged cheese. Parmesan is the most noted of the grating cheeses.

The royalty of cheeses are the blues, led by roquefort. Many of the blue-veined cheeses were developed in efforts to imitate roquefort. Blues can range from a mellow version, such as England's stilton, to Italy's gorgonzola, the most pungent.

Whatever your preferences in cheeses, you'll discover something to tempt the palate in the table cheese category. Collins separates these into five subdivisions. Belbochon (meaning beauty of the field) represents the soft variety and has a mild, nutty taste. Italy's fontina, a semisoft cheese, also has a delicate nutty flavor; a semifirm cheese, doux de montagne (meaning sweet of the mountain), has a pleasant, light taste; cotal, from France, is high in protein and low in fat; and Germany's tilsiter, with a hearty flavor, characterizes firm table cheeses.

NOW THAT YOU know the ABCs of cheeses and have an inkling of what your tastebuds relish, where do you find the cheesemongers?

Despite the growing number of fromphiles, we found only a few specialty stores in the Chicagoland area offering a selection of more than 30 bulk cheeses. The supermarkets are in a separate category.

A good rule of thumb is to taste before you buy to learn your likes and dislikes. A good cheesemonger offers small tastes of unfamiliar types and will make recommendations. He shows an interest in his customers.

Cheese proprietors care for their merchandise. The display cases are neat and clean, and the cheeses are well wrapped.

Make sure you have a closeup look at what you are purchasing. Check the words on the product. If the cheese is imported, it should say from where. Look for details.

BY NOW, of course, you're a cheese whiz. So here is a guide to the area's choicest cheese emporiums. Call ahead; hours vary, as do the varieties in stock.

CHEESE SHOPS

Chalet Wine & Cheese Shops, 444 W. Fullerton Pkwy., 405 W. Armitage Av., 536 Street and Lake Park, Chicago; 5100 W. Dempster St., Skokie; 71 Linden Av., Glencoe; 153 Skokie Valley Rd., Highland Park; 3121 N. Thatcher Rd., River Grove. The creme de la creme of cheesemongers. More than 200 varieties from about 21 countries are available in each store. From France, there are beaumont, a semisoft cheese with a distinct nutlike flavor that, when ripe, is said to have a rustic or "barnyard" flavor; and St. Paulin, a soft-ripened cheese with a taste and aroma more pervasive than camembert or brie. Neither mild nor ultrastrong, St. Paulin is somewhere in between. Denmark is represented with 16 kinds, such as 2 types of danbo: plain, caraway, and 30 per cent fat free, which are variations of an emmenthal except softer, meister, and milder. It's usually a table or snack cheese served for dessert, with wine or fruit.

Weight watchers can have a real field day! There are at least five low-fat cheeses, ranging from 60 to 95 per cent fat free. These include maigrelait, 40 per cent fat free with the consistency of brie; gaperon, a semisoft, herb flavored spiced with peppercorns; and St. Otho from Switzerland, 95 per cent fat free.

And the Chalet hasn't forgotten Uncle Sam. You can choose from 11 varieties made in the U.S. including beerkaese, which is similar to brick, and three types of cheddar.

This is the only place that has a two-week training course for its personnel.

Stop & Shop, 14 W. Washington St., 260 E. Chestnut St., 1314 N. Ritchie Ct. The first store to offer a gourmet selection of cheeses, as well as other foods. I discovered Irish blarney (a swiss type) here. A larger selection can be found at the Washington Street store, although each carries more than 100 kinds with an emphasis on imported.

Coulommiers, a soft-ripened cheese from France, similar to brie with a mild flavor but definite and distinctive aroma, as well as gourmandise, bonbel, beerkaese, a stronger version of brick cheese, and domestic gorgonzola, a blue-veined cheese originating in Italy, are available.

Armanetti's International Delicatessen & Cheese Shops, 6151 Dundee Rd., Northbrook; 5425 S. La Grange Rd., Countryside; 150 Virginia St., Crystal Lake. Tucked away in the Armanetti liquor stores, this shop was a pleasant surprise. About 70 cheeses here, mostly imported. Turophiles of Danish and Swedish varieties will call this place heaven.

There are five of each Danish muenster, fontina, blue, edam, and samsoe. Swedish farmer's cheese, ambrosia, bond-ost, fontina, and graddost. A complete line of Merkt's 12 cheese spreads also are featured. Made in Bristol, Wis., Merkt's offers such tasty treats as cherry cheddar; cheddar with wine, garlic, or onions; swiss almond, buttery swiss, or swiss with cherries.

The service was friendly and knowledgeable. When questions were asked about certain cheeses, tastes were immediately offered.

Kuhn's, 3053 N. Lincoln Av.; 8716 Golf Rd., Des Plaines; and in the Deerbrook Shopping Center, Deerfield. Although this is a German delicatessen, the cheeses here cover the globe. With 125 types, the focus is on imported, especially French. Did you know Germany makes a camembert type? It does. Other German gems include romadur, gouda, and limburger; weisswurst, a veal sausage; the ubiquitous limburger, and hard cheese. Courteous service.

Hickory Farms of Ohio, Northbrook Court, Northbrook; Randhurst Shopping Center, Mount Prospect; Hawthorne Shopping Center, Vernon Hills; Cherry Vale Mall, Aurora; Orland Square, Orland Park; Water Tower Place; Yorktown Shopping Center, Lombard; Lakehurst Shopping Center, Waukegan; and other shopping centers in Illinois and Wisconsin. If domestic cheese is your dish, you'll find one of the largest selections of Wisconsin's winners. About 100 cheeses in stock. There's meunster, fenduita, (similar to meunster but softer), brick, colby, monterey jack, edam, and gouda. The varieties are divided into sections to make them easy to find — part skim milk, imported, spread cheeses, cheddars, swiss and meunsters, and everything else.

Delicatessen Meyer, 4756 N. Lincoln Av. Reasonable prices can be found at this German delicatessen. Fifty kinds of cheese; mostly German, Swiss, Danish, and French. Some of the imported kinds are smoked cheese, hoff-kase, bavarian cream cheese, raclette, esrom, and butterkaese. The sales people are friendly and take the time to chat.

Honey Bear Farm shops in Carson Pirie Scott & Co. stores: State Street; Edens Plaza, Wilmette; Yorktown Shopping Center, Lombard; Lakehurst Shopping Center, Waukegan; Orland Square, Orland Park; Lincoln Mall, Matteson; North Riverside Mall, North Riverside. A Honey Bear Farm shop can be found in the Deerbrook Shopping Center, Deerfield; Marquette Mall, Michigan City, Ind.; and in Powers Lake, Wis. Searching for American's finest? More than half of the 50 cheeses carried are from the U.S., mostly Wisconsin's best. Liederkranz, longhorn, Vermont sage, caraway gouda, and oodles of cheddar types are here.

For a store that has so many imported crackers, teas, and spices, though, you expect to find more unusual cheeses. If you don't feel daring, this is the place to go.

Alpen Cheese Barn, 1246 W. Randolph St. Inge Lawrence, the proprietress, greets you as you enter a shop that resembles something you'd find in the Alps. She has more than 40 varieties, emphasis on imported. About eight kinds of swiss, from emmenthal to appenzell, and one from Iceland. In the domestics, cheddar is the big cheese with 10 types. If you ask Lawrence to suggest a cheese, she chooses Norwegian jarlsberg or Danish havarti.

Marshall Field & Co., State Street store. Ride the escalator or elevator to the seventh floor and you'll find the cheese counter filled with about 50 varieties. Special attention is given to the imported types, mostly French. Depending on the time of year, you'll find a nice selection of goat cheese; la chevre blanche is in now. Another unusual item is la chapelle, which is similar to a brie and can be found only at Fields. Tastes are readily offered, and service is efficient. This isn't a place to linger; there is usually a line. Try to avoid shopping during the lunch hour.

Haynes Wisconsin Cheese House, 10635 Harlem Av., Worth. This establishment is similar to a country store in that it has a little bit of everything, besides 20 kinds of cheese. If you crave domestics, you'll find some goodies here. How about cheese and salami, cheese and onions, or cheese and hot peppers for starters? German smoked cheese, mozzarella, and the most flavorful meunster I've tasted are also on hand. The day we visited,

New adventures for cheese lovers

VIVE LA FRANCE, and the romantic cheeses! Since more people are becoming adventuresome in their choice of cheese, the soft-ripened, cremes, and goat varieties are starting to attract the attention of turophiles. Here are some of the esoteric ones to watch for:

Cremarome—A fairly delicate fresh cheese that is flavored with kirsch or walnuts or bits of green pepper. It's rich and creamy and falls into the dessert category.

Pipo Creme—A blue-veined import, very rich and quite mild in flavor. Soft and creamy, this cheese could be used for dips, salad dressings, and even desserts.

St. Andre—A triple creme, rich and creamy and spiced with herbs or peppers. Perfect for dessert with wine or fruit.

Le Vieux Pane—An aged, soft, medium-strong cheese. It's more substantial than a port du salut, but the flavor is supple and smooth. A dessert or table cheese.

St. Ortho—From Switzerland, this cheese is 95 per cent fat free. A very firm cheese with the nutty flavor of emmenthal. It's a multipurpose cheese that can be used for sandwiches, snacks, cooking, or served with wine, beer, or fruit.

Morbier—This French semisoft mountain cheese is mildly piquant. It has an orange skin and a horizontal dividing line of edible ash.

Bebichon—A soft, table cheese with a yellowish crust and a mild, nutty flavor. Serve as a dessert cheese with wine or fruit.

Raclette—Primarily a table cheese in Switzerland. It is known here for the dish that bears its name. The cheese is melted on a stove and scraped off. It's served with boiled potatoes and vegetables.

Maigrelait—It's 80 per cent fat free, and the soft and creamy texture makes it an unusual cheese. A cross between a port du salut and a brie.

Chevre—The French word for goat, cheesemongers use the word as a generic term. The amount of goat cheeses available vary, depending on the season. More people are beginning to ask for them. Watch this cheese group spread. The selection of these signifies a sophisticated palate.

SUPERMARKETS

Dominick's Finer Foods. This establishment cuts most of its cheeses by hand at its commissary in Northlake. The varieties are cut in random pieces and then packaged in cellophane before being sent to the stores.

About 25 imported cheeses are offered in a case near the deli counter. You can find kessari and kefaltoyri from Greece; romano, provolone, and parmesan from Italy; seven French cheeses, such as brie, St. Pauli, and gourmandise with either walnuts or kirsch; as well as offerings from Denmark; The Netherlands; and England.

In the dairy case, you'll encounter 25 to 30 domestic types, including mozarella, parmesan, assorted cheddars, monterey jack, and colby.

Jewel Food Stores. Jewel requires its stores to carry a predetermined amount of imported and domestic cheeses in the Chef's Kitchen or Cheese Shop, depending on the store's size. Larger Jewels stock 36 varieties; medium-sized stores, 16 types, and smaller stores, 7 selections.

Each store chooses cheeses from a list of 120 imports and 50 domestics. The dairy case is also filled with about 25 prepackaged domestic cheeses, from ricotta to swiss.

One domestic cheese Jewel believes is unique is nauvoo blue, made in Nauvoo, Ill., by Mormons. The veining of the cheese is bright blue, and it is piquant and tangy. Jewel calls it a gourmet blue for an average budget.

Imports run the gamut from port du salut to French roquefort or brie to gouda and Danish blue.

Kohl's Food Stores. Domestics dominate the cheese scene at the stores in this chain. About 125 varieties are found in the deli and dairy cases. Kohl's own brand, a Wisconsin label, and the Skandia brand cheeses from California (which Kohl's considers a better line) are prominently featured. A substantial number of smoked cheeses also are carried, as well as 30 imported cheeses from Denmark, Switzerland, France, and Germany.

Treasure Island. Despite repeated attempts, we were unable to obtain any information on the cheeses available in Treasure Island stores.

BANANAS HANALEI PLANTATION

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ unpeeled lemon or large lime
¼ unpeeled orange
4 large, firm, ripe bananas
¼ cup orange Curacoa
2 jiggers brandy or rum
Coffee ice cream or pineapple sherbet

Heat butter in blazer directly over heat. Mix in brown sugar. Hold lemon or lime quarter and orange quarter over pan and squeeze out juice, pressing to extract a little of the aromatic oil from the peel. Peel bananas and slice in bit-size pieces into butter mixture. Add Curacao. Heat until sauce is bubbly and hot and bananas have absorbed flavor of sauce. Warm brandy or rum, pour on top, and flame. Spoon flaming sauce over fruit for 1 minute. Spoon hot over individual servings of ice cream or sherbet. Serves 4

MEAT DISH

Hickory Skillet Ragout

- 1½ lbs. beef stew, cubed
- 1 teaspoon Spice Islands Old Hickory Smoked Salt
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup red dinner wine
- ½ teaspoon Spice Islands Fines Herbes
- ¼ teaspoon Spice Islands Fine Grind Java Black Pepper
- ⅛ teaspoon Spice Islands Garlic Powder
- 3 or 4 small white onions, peeled and halved
- 3 or 4 carrots, diced
- 2 cups sliced green beans
- ½ cup water

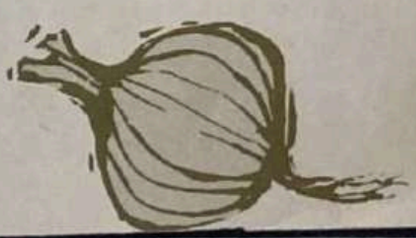
Place beef in a heavy skillet; sprinkle with Old Hickory Smoked Salt. Add butter and brown beef well. Combine wine, Fines Herbes, Pepper and Garlic Powder. Add to beef; cover and simmer 1 hour. Add onions, carrots, beans and water to beef. Cover and simmer ½ hour longer. Makes 4 servings.

Red Devil Butter

- ¼ pound butter
- ¼ teaspoon Spice Islands Garlic Salt
- ¼ teaspoon Spice Islands Old Hickory Smoked Salt
- ½ to 1 teaspoon Spice Islands Chili Con Carne Seasoning
- 1 tablespoon Spice Islands Instant Toasted Onions

Let butter soften at room temperature. Blend in Garlic Salt, Old Hickory Smoked Salt and Chili Con Carne Seasoning. When thoroughly blended, mix in Toasted Onions. Spread on desired bread; wrap in heavy aluminum foil and heat on barbecue grill or in 350°F. oven. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

■ If you want extra "zip" use the larger amount of Chili Con Carne Seasoning. French bread, hard rolls, hamburger or hot dog buns, or crackers are all good when spread with this colorful, seasoned butter.



Chili Flank Steak

- 1½ lbs. flank steak
- ½ cup oil
- 2½ tablespoons Spice Islands Unflavored Red Wine Vinegar
- 1½ teaspoons Spice Islands Chili Con Carne Seasoning
- ¼ teaspoon Spice Islands Onion Powder
- ⅛ teaspoon Spice Islands Garlic Powder
- 1 teaspoon salt

Place flank steak in a shallow glass baking pan. Combine oil, Wine Vinegar, Chili Con Carne Seasoning, Onion Powder, Garlic Powder and salt. Shake well. Pour over steak. Cover baking dish with foil; refrigerate overnight. When ready to cook, remove steak from marinade. Place on rack in broiling pan. Broil 3 inches from heat for 8 minutes on one side, 6 minutes on the other side (for rare steak). Remove to cutting board, cut diagonally into very thin slices. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Old Hickory Hamburgers

- 1 pound ground beef
- 1 teaspoon Spice Islands Onion Powder
- ½ teaspoon Spice Islands M. S. G.
- 1 teaspoon Spice Islands Old Hickory Smoked Salt
- ¼ teaspoon Spice Islands Fine Grind Java Black Pepper

Mix together ground beef, Onion Powder, M. S. G., Old Hickory Smoked Salt and Pepper. Let stand an hour or so for flavors to blend. Shape into patties. Pan-broil, cook on grill, or barbecue. Serve hot. Makes 4 servings.

Lemon Tomato Relish

- 1 can (1 lb. 12 oz.) solid packed tomatoes
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 cup diced green pepper
- 1 lemon, thinly sliced
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar, packed
- ¼ cup Spice Islands Instant Minced Onions
- 2 teaspoons Spice Islands Old Hickory Smoked Salt
- ½ teaspoon Spice Islands Hot Mustard
- ¼ teaspoon Spice Islands Fine Grind Java Black Pepper
- ⅛ teaspoon Spice Islands Garlic Powder

Combine tomatoes, celery, peppers, lemon, sugar and onions in a large saucepan. Add 1 teaspoon Old Hickory Smoked Salt, Mustard, Pepper and Garlic Powder. Simmer 1 hour until liquid is reduced to half. Remove from heat; stir in remaining teaspoon Old Hickory Smoked Salt. Turn into a quart jar with tightly fitting lid. Chill overnight before using. Makes about 3 cups relish.

■ Delicious served with cold sliced meats, hamburgers or hot dogs.

HERE IS A spinach dish that even kids like. ... has all the attributes of a rich, creamy ...asserole but has no cheese or cream in it, ...nd it's easy to make.

SPINACH THE KIDS LIKE

Six servings

1 package frozen spinach, thawed and chopped, or about 2 cups cooked fresh spinach, finely chopped (I buzz mine in the blender once quickly and then drain it.)
Salt to taste
2 tablespoons each: butter, whole wheat flour or rolled oats
1 cup liquid (mixture of milk and stock, or spinach water, is good)
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg
2 eggs

Prepare spinach. Blenderize remaining ingredients. Combine mixtures, season to taste, and put in buttered casserole. Bake at 350 degrees 30 to 40 minutes, or until set.

If you don't have a blender, make a sauce by cooking butter and flour 1 minute, then stirring in liquid and nutmeg. Beat eggs separately; gradually add thickened sauce to eggs. Then proceed with above directions.

BRANDIED CHICKEN LIVER

Quick and easy!

¼ pound fresh mushrooms, trimmed
5 tablespoons butter
1 minced shallot or 2 chopped green onions
1 teaspoon lemon juice
salt, freshly ground pepper, nutmeg to taste
1 pound chicken livers
flour
3 tablespoons brandy
1 cup cream
pinch thyme
minced parsley
4 slices crisp hot toast or toasted English muffin

Wipe mushrooms with damp paper towel and slice lengthwise. Heat 1½ tablespoon butter in blazer over direct heat. Add shallot and mushrooms. Cook, shaking pan occasionally, 2-3 minutes. Season with lemon juice, salt a few grindings of pepper, and a dash of nutmeg. Remove to a small bowl. Quarter livers, blot with paper towel, and dust lightly with flour, heat rest of butter in blazer and saute livers until richly browned, but still moist inside. Warm brandy and pour over livers. Light, and spoon pan juice over livers until flames die. Set blazer in hot water pan and add mushrooms and cream. Season with salt, pepper, a little more nutmeg, and the thyme. Heat, stirring occasionally, until sauce is richly colored and slightly thickened. Add the parsley. Serve over crisp hot toast or toasted English muffin (serve 4).

MEAT FONDUE

Beef or pork (good quality) defatted and cut into cubes by your butcher — allow 8 ounces per person. Season the meat with salt, pepper, Lawry's salt, lightly sprinkle with Accent and allow to sit at room temperature for 1 hour. Fill Fraser's Fondue Dish with about ½ pint of vegetable oil and heat.

Each person puts cube of meat on skewer and cooks it to liking. Small bowls of sauces add to the taste:

Chili
Sour cream and chives
Curry and sour cream
Dill weed and sour cream
Ketchup
English mustard
A-1 sauce

A good salad and a full bodied Burgundy make this a meal for even your most important guests.

CARNE ASADA

1 cup chopped tomatoes
3 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
2 tablespoons chopped green chilies
2 tablespoons chopped ripe olives
1 teaspoon garlic salt
Strip steak

Combine all ingredients except steak; refrigerate at least 2 hours, preferably overnight. Serve with cooked steak.

1½ cups sauce.

SAVORY RICE WITH LOBSTER

1 10-oz. lobster tail
Paprika
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ teaspoon onion powder
¼ teaspoon each of oregano and salt
Dash of pepper
2 tablespoons dry white wine
1 6-oz. box long grain and wild rice, cooked according to package directions.

Cook lobster in boiling water 6 minutes; remove from pan and rinse with cold water. Remove meat from shell; cube. Sprinkle lobster cubes with paprika and brown lightly in butter over medium-low heat.

Combine olive oil, lemon juice and seasonings; mix well. Stir in wine; add to hot rice. Heat over medium heat 2 to 3 minutes. Add lobster to rice mixture before serving.

4 servings

EASY DAY MARINADE

¾ cup olive oil
½ cup dry red wine
2 garlic cloves, crushed
2 tablespoons finely chopped green onion
½ teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon sweet basil
½ teaspoon salt
Porterhouse steak, thawed

Prepare marinade by combining all ingredients except steak. Marinate steak 24 hours, turning occasionally. Salt steak; cook.

1½ cups marinade

HARVEST CROWN ROAST

Crown lamb rib roast, thawed
2 cups peeled chopped potatoes
¼ cup butter
1 cup chopped apple
1 cup onion chunks
2 garlic cloves, crushed
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 cup dried bread cubes
1½ teaspoons salt

Heat oven to 325°. Cover tips of bones with foil to prevent charring; place on rack in open pan. Roast according to times shown on the Pfaelzer chart. Meanwhile, cook potatoes in butter over medium heat until lightly browned, approximately 10 minutes. Add remaining ingredients; toss lightly. Place in 1½-qt. casserole; bake, covered, the last 30 minutes of roasting time. Spoon into center of cooked roast and serve.

4 cups dressing

TANGY MUSHROOM SAUCE

2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
¼ cup butter
⅓ cup dry red wine
1 10½-oz. can beef gravy
Dash of cayenne
1 cup sliced mushrooms, sautéed
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
Filet Mignon

Cook onion in 2 tablespoons butter 5 minutes; add wine and simmer 3 to 4 minutes. Add gravy and cayenne; cook 5 minutes over medium heat. Cook mushrooms in remaining butter; add to sauce. Stir in parsley before serving. Serve with cooked steak. 1¾ cups sauce

TARRAGON HERB BUTTER

½ cup soft butter
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1 tablespoon finely chopped chives
1 teaspoon tarragon leaves, crushed
1 teaspoon Sherry wine
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon dry mustard
Chateaubriand, thawed

Combine all ingredients except meat; chill until firm, at least 1 hour. Remove from refrigerator; allow to soften to spreading consistency. Spread on Chateaubriand before roasting according to times shown on the Pfaelzer chart. Serve remainder as a spread for the sliced meat.

½ cup butter

First-time encounters with a MICROWAVE

By Joanne Will
Food editor

IN MARKETING TERMS, the magic number of 10 per cent saturation is within reach. Microwave ovens have entered the mainstream. Soon 1 in 10 households will have one.

The waves were a long time surfacing, considering that microwave technology began in the early 1940s and the first cooking unit was made in 1945. A decade later, Tappan put microwave ovens in cabinets and first sold them for home use. At the same time, another firm, Litton Industries, was introducing the concept of heating foods by the action of microwaves in commercial kitchens.

But the real boom in oven sales came in the mid-1970s, with improved technology, increased consumer education, bigger incomes, and changing lifestyles. Now, according to an industry spokesman, many consumers have entered the third stage of product development — product acceptance.

Oven owners have experimented with it, experienced a few failures, and now are about as comfortable with the microwave oven as with any other kitchen appliance.

MARJORIE LEVY of Hyde Park considers herself a pioneer in microwave cooking. Her husband Julian, a professor at the University of Chicago and chairman of the Chicago Plan Commission, bought her a microwave oven when she was hobbling around with a broken ankle in 1971. Her initial reaction: "It would have been better if he had hired a cook!

"There were no books around, no cooking classes. I served some awfully raw vegetables at first. But I'm fearless now," this charming Chicago hostess said as she effortlessly microcooked a roast and readied two vegetable dishes for the oven.

Mrs. Levy's microwave oven is a one-speed model without a browning unit, set in a corner in her kitchen next to a beautiful vintage stove that is used only occasionally now. A second oven purchased for a retreat in New Mexico is more up-to-date, but Mrs. Levy's philosophy is that the simplest equipment is best. "The more gadgets it has, the more things can go wrong."

Though she has had some failures, Mrs. Levy has been comfortable with the oven from the beginning.

"I still guess at some times and undercook a little bit," she said. "I can always add another minute. When you cook, you do a lot by feel.

"I LEARNED quickly that you don't use the oven for anything that needs braising. But I love it for cooking roasts. Microwave roasts are much juicier. I think the meat has a more natural flavor."

Usually, when a roast is two-thirds done, Mrs. Levy adds a little catsup, sliced canned mushrooms, and a little red wine for color. Or, as with a compact leg of lamb, she simply studs the roast with garlic and apples some bottled browning sauce midway through cooking. She doesn't salt the roast until after cooking because she says it toughens the meat.

"When you have a new piece of equipment you have to force yourself to use it. Then you can find out what it can do. It was the same with the Cuisinart. I took lessons on the food processor. I also took some microwave lessons."

Microcooking, as well as new lifestyles, have changed Mrs. Levy's style of cooking and entertaining. "I don't use my beautiful silver platters anymore. I have a hot tray and use Mexican pottery dishes."

A LARGE FORMAL dining room in the Levy household seldom is used, even for guest meals. Dinner is served in the kitchen, where Mrs. Levy puts the finishing touches on the meal while guests enjoy cocktails.

On a day-to-day schedule, she usually has finished cooking by noon. Then she is free in the afternoons for social and art interests. At dinner, the components for the meal are reheated via microwaves with little loss in quality. She's ready and accustomed to unexpected guests. Even Mayer and Mrs. Blandic have dined in the Levy kitchen.

Carol Bonus on the other hand, categorized herself in the I-hate-to-cook camp of cooks until she installed a microwave oven 1½ years ago. Now she has two, stacked one-a-top-the-other in her warm, Williamsburg-style kitchen.

The Glen Ellyn woman, a mother of two who works as an assistant to her husband, Harold, a pediatric dentist, learned to cook with a microwave. "There's no mess. It's great," she says. "I can spend my energies elsewhere."

MRS. BONUS took some rather drastic steps when the first oven was installed. She carted all her pots and pans to the basement, and later covered her conventional stovetop with a portable counter.

"The only time I use the range top is to make popcorn," she said with a laugh.

Mrs. Bonus took lessons from the beginning at Microcookery Center, Inc. Glen Ellyn, one of several area cooking schools specializing in microwave cooking techniques. Both of her children, Maria, 11, and Kurt, 7, have also been enrolled in a class designed especially for teaching children safety precautions and for trying simple recipes. "The children cook with supervision," Mrs. Bonus said.

DR. BONUS enrolled in a class for men only that delves more deeply into microwave technology.

For the novice, Mrs. Bonus advises very simple dinners — microcooked meatloaf, baked potatoes, and a vegetable.

"Microcooking is so different from conventional cooking. You have to learn a new vocabulary like 'holdover' cooking. You have to know about the cooking 'pattern' of your oven," she said.

"Until you know what you're doing, you have to start with recipes. I feel more confident now. I still don't adapt recipes, but I know how. The liquid has to be decreased. And the fat and sugar content of a recipe can effect the cooking time," she said.

Favorite dishes at the Bonus household are microwaved stuffed green peppers, barbecued chicken, ham slices with mandarin orange garnish and sauce, sloppy joes, and a host of fresh vegetables. The youngsters enjoy broccoli with "holiday" sauce, a nicely seasoned white sauce that Mrs. Bonus says she wouldn't have attempted before she started microcooking. They also like some of the sweet treats Mrs. Bonus cooks in short order — a crumbly cherry dessert, pineapple upside-down cake, sticky buns, and a versatile fresh cranberry sauce.

Though Mrs. Bonus describes herself as a "nongourmet person," microwave cooking has moved her in that direction. For the holidays, she made batch after batch of wine jelly for gifts, something she wouldn't have considered doing before she started microwave cooking. The jelly was packaged in plastic wine glasses.

Recently Mrs. Bonus treated the family to microcooked lobster tails, another entree she would have avoided before. She likes not only the speed of microcooking, but also the easy cleanup. "All those glass dishes can go right into the dishwasher."

Mrs. Bonus loves her built-in ovens with the adjacent stove-top work area, but advises others to buy countertop units if space is limited. "Get a box the size of an oven," she says, "and put it on the counter for a few days. See if you can work around it and live with it." If you're like Mrs. Bonus, you'll live with it and love it.

Carol Bonus often gets help from Kurt, 7, and Maria, 11, when she microcooks dinner in her two built-in microwaves.

Microwaved leg of lamb
Six servings

1 half leg of lamb (4 pounds)
1 clove garlic, cut in half
1 teaspoon brown gravy coloring

Rub lamb with cut clove of garlic. Put roast, fat side up, on microwave roasting rack in 2-quart glass baking dish. Cover with paper towel. Microcook on high 35 to 40 minutes, or 8½ minutes per pound for medium-well. Meat thermometer inserted in center of largest muscle should register 155 to 165 degrees. Leg of lamb is an unevenly shaped roast; therefore it must be turned on all sides to cook evenly. Turn roast every 10 minutes. Blend brown gravy coloring and 1 teaspoon water. Brush on lamb after 30 minutes of cooking. Repeat two or three times. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes before carving. During that time, thermometer should rise to 175 degrees.

Marjorie Levy's artichoke bottoms with puree of peas.

Artichoke bottoms with puree of peas
Eight servings

5 tablespoons butter
2 cans (7½ ounces each) artichoke bottoms, drained
½ cup minced onion
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen peas
½ teaspoon mace or nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt

Melt 2 tablespoons butter in large skillet. Add artichoke bottoms; saute until lightly browned, 4 to 5 minutes. Arrange in 2-quart rectangular glass baking dish; set aside. Microcook 1 tablespoon butter in 2-quart casserole on high 1 minute, until melted. Add onion and microcook 2 minutes. Stir in frozen peas and mace. Microcook on high 12 minutes, stirring twice, until tender. Stir in remaining 1 tablespoon butter and salt. Puree mixture in blender or food processor until smooth. Spoon into artichokes. Cover and microwave on high 4 to 5 minutes, until heated through.

Note: Artichokes may be sauteed and filled with pureed peas early in day. Refrigerate and reheat at serving time.

Brandied julienne carrots
Six servings

8 large carrots, pared (about 2 pounds)
½ cup each: butter, cut-up, brandy
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon leaf thyme
Salt

Cut carrots into strips about ⅛-inch by 2 inches. Arrange evenly in 2-quart casserole. Microcook butter in 1 cup glass measure on high 1 minute, or until butter is melted. Stir in brandy, sugar, and thyme. Pour over carrots. Cover and microcook on high 10 minutes, stirring half way through cooking. Let stand 5 minutes. Add salt to taste.

Cranberry sauce
1 quart sauce

2 cups fresh cranberries
8 tablespoons liquid brown sugar
½ cup orange marmalade

Combine cranberries, brown sugar, and ½ cup water in 1-quart glass measure. Microcook on high 3 minutes. Stir and mash cranberries with fork. Stir in marmalade; microcook an additional 2 minutes. Pour into serving dish. Let cool 10 minutes before serving as poultry or ham accompaniment or over ice cream.

Cherry sticky buns
Eight-inch ring

½ cup butter, cut-up
½ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
½ cup chopped pecans
5 maraschino cherries, cut in halves
1 package (11 ounces) refrigerated buttermilk biscuits

Put butter in 8 by 2-inch round glass baking dish; microcook on high 45 seconds, until butter is melted. Sprinkle brown sugar and corn syrup over butter; stir until blended. Push brown sugar mixture towards sides of dish. Place 6-ounce glass cup inverted in center of dish. Sprinkle nuts over brown sugar mixture. Arrange cherries evenly around dish. Separate biscuits. Put 1 biscuit atop each cherry in dish. Microcook on high 8 to 9 minutes, rotating one-fourth turn every 2 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes. Invert onto serving platter; remove glass cup. Let cool slightly before serving.

Carol Bonus' no crust quiche lorraine.

No crust quiche lorraine
Four servings as entree

½ cup small, cooked, drained shrimp
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded cheddar cheese
1 can (13 ounces) evaporated milk
4 eggs
½ teaspoon sugar
Dash cayenne pepper
French fried onion rings, snipped chives or sliced green onion tops, 1 slice tomato, cut in quarters, for garnish

Arrange shrimp evenly in bottom of 9-inch glass pie plate. Top with cheese. Beat milk, eggs, sugar, and cayenne pepper with rotary beater until smooth. Pour over cheese in dish. Microcook on high 10 to 12 minutes, turning dish one fourth turn every 3 minutes. Let stand 10 minutes to finish cooking. Garnish top with crumbled french fried onions, snipped chives, or sliced green onion tops. Arrange tomato quarters in center of dish. Cut into wedges and serve. May be served as an entree or appetizer.

Spiced turkey breast with curry sauce

12 to 15 servings

1 turkey breast (6 to 8 pounds)
Salt, pepper
¼ cup butter
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
½ teaspoon ground ginger
2 cans (17 ounces each) fruit for salad, drained
2 cups uncooked brown or white rice

For sauce:
¼ cup butter
2 medium apples, peeled, cored, chopped
½ cup onion, finely chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
¼ cup flour
2 teaspoons curry powder
2 cans (10½ ounces each) condensed chicken broth
1 cup half-and-half
Salt, pepper to taste

Season turkey with salt and pepper, place in roasting pan. Heat butter, orange rind, and ginger in saucepan. Brush part of mixture over turkey breast. Roast at 325 degrees 2 hours, basting occasionally. Add fruit to pan drippings; cook 30 minutes, or until a meat thermometer inserted in thickest part of breast reads 185 degrees. Meanwhile, cook rice according to package directions. For sauce, melt butter in medium saucepan; saute apple, onion, and garlic until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in flour and curry powder; cook 3 minutes. Gradually pour in chicken broth and half-and-half. Cook over low heat until sauce boils and thickens, stirring constantly. Season to taste. Pour over turkey and fruit arranged on platter. Serve with rice. (Wednesday dinner)

Special occasions call for a curry-spiced sauce over turkey breast.

Snipped prunes make this Swiss cookie a nutritious dessert.

Tuna pockets

Two sandwiches

1 can (7 ounces) tuna, drained, flaked
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
½ cup each: chopped celery, mayonnaise
1 tablespoon chopped onion
Dash pepper
2 pita breads
2 slices tomato

Combine tuna, egg, celery, mayonnaise, onion, pepper. Slit pita bread to form a pocket; spoon half of tuna mixture and 1 slice tomato into pocket. Wrap in foil; heat at 350 degrees 10 minutes until hot. (Or, heat in covered skillet until hot.) (Monday lunch)

Prune switzles

3½ to 4 dozen

½ cup butter
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon each: cinnamon, nutmeg
2 large eggs
1¾ cups sifted flour
½ cup snipped prunes

Cream butter with sugar, salt, cinnamon, and nutmeg. Beat in eggs, one at a time (batter will appear curdled). Gradually blend in flour to make a moderately stiff dough. Stir in prunes. Chill 1 hour or longer. Drop by level tablespoonfuls on greased baking sheets. Bake above oven center at 350 degrees for 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove to wire racks to cool. (Wednesday lunch)

Mock lasagne

Four servings

1 pound (3 medium) potatoes, peeled, cut in ½-inch chunks
½ teaspoon salt
Boiling water
¼ cup milk
½ pound ground beef
1 can (7½ ounces) marinara sauce
1 can (3 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1 cup cottage cheese
½ pound monterey jack cheese, sliced
2 tablespoons grated parmesan cheese

Cook potatoes in 1-inch salted boiling water until tender, 10 to 15 minutes; drain. Mash with milk until smooth. Spread in 2-quart casserole. Brown ground beef; stir in marinara sauce and mushrooms. Spread cottage cheese over potatoes; top with meat sauce. Cover with cheese slices; sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Bake at 350 degrees 35 to 40 minutes until bubbly and golden. Let stand 10 minutes before serving. (Friday dinner)

Mary Meade's recipe of the week

Clip along box below and paste on both sides of file card.

Layered egg salad mold

Eight to ten servings

12 hard-cooked eggs
2 envelopes plain gelatin
½ cup cold water
1½ cups mayonnaise
¼ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon each: salt, grated onion
½ cup each: chopped parsley and green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill, optional
1 hard-cooked egg, sliced, optional

Separate cooked egg yolks and whites. Chop egg whites; put yolks through a food mill or sieve. Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve over hot water. Add to mayonnaise. Stir in lemon juice, salt, and grated onion. Chill until partly thickened. Add half of mayonnaise mixture to egg yolks; mix well. Turn into oiled 8½-cup ring mold. Chill until almost firm. Mix remaining mayonnaise mixture and egg whites. Add parsley, green pepper, and dill. Turn into ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on platter. Garnish with more egg slices, if you wish.

Follow the road to beef pot roast

This week's Food Guide adds a new dimension to its long-standing step-by-step illustrated recipe feature. Beginning today, we add the expertise of Better Homes and Gardens magazine and its kitchen-tested step-by-step recipes. For almost six decades, the magazine's test kitchens and cookbooks have brought good cooking ideas and reliable recipes to millions of Americans.

The new feature offers basic cooking know-how combined with easy-to-follow how-to photographs. Recipe instructions are clear and simple and include the hows as well as whys of cooking.

Each column will offer practical ideas and up-to-date cooking procedures for both beginning and experienced cooks. All recipes have been tested and tasted for workability and family appeal and are from the book, "Better Homes and Gardens Complete Step-by-Step Cook Book."

Once a month a new step-by-step recipe also will be created in The Tribune test kitchen especially for Food Guide readers. Again, the recipes will stress the how-to approach to further uncomplicate your cooking.

Better Homes and Gardens
Step-by-step cooking

Beef pot roast
Six to eight servings

1 beef pot roast, 3 to 4 pounds
Flour
Salt, pepper
1/2 cup water
Potatoes, peeled, cut up
Small whole onions
Carrots, cut in 1-inch pieces

STEP 1:Trim excess fat from roast; reserve trimmings. Any of the roasts considered less tender are suitable for pot roasting (braising). These include those cut from the chuck (arm and blade) and round (rump).

STEP 2: Coat all sides of roast with flour, using about 1 tablespoon in all. Coating with flour gives the meat, and later the gravy, a richer brown color.

However, you may brown the meat without flour, if preferred.

STEP 3: Heat reserved trimmings in dutch oven until about 2 tablespoons fat accumulate. Discard trimmings.

If preferred, you may use 2 tablespoons cooking oil or shortening instead.

STEP 4: Add roast to hot fat. Slowly brown roast on both sides. Use a metal spatula and tongs to turn roast easily. If roast is more box-shaped (as rump roasts often are), brown it on all sides.

STEP 5: Sprinkle roast with a little salt and pepper. Add 1/2 cup water, pouring it directly onto meat, as illustrated.

If preferred, for a change of flavor, use apple juice, pineapple juice, beef broth, wine, or beer instead of water.

Additional seasonings also may be used, if preferred. Try adding 1 bay leaf, 1/2 teaspoon dried basil, crushed, or 1/2 teaspoon dried thyme, crushed.

STEP 6: Cover and roast in oven at 325 degrees 1 to 1 1/2 hours. Cooking time depends as much on shape of roast as on weight. A flat or thin roast will cook more quickly than a box-shaped roast.

Pot roasting refers to cooking at a low temperature in a covered pan with added liquid. This method — sometimes called braising — helps to tenderize meat by breaking down its tough connective fibers.

STEP 7: Add potatoes, onions, and carrots to roast. Since these need less cooking time, they are added toward end of cooking.

If preferred, substitute or add any of these vegetables: sweet potatoes, rutabagas, turnips, parsnips, or celery.

If you want to cook roast without added vegetables, simply continue cooking it.

STEP 8: Cover pan and continue cooking about 45 minutes, or until vegetables and meat are tender. Use fork to check doneness, as illustrated.

TIP: Pot roasts also may be prepared atop range. Simply trim and brown meat as directed. Add seasonings and liquid. Cover and simmer for suggested time. Add additional water as needed to prevent sticking.

To prepare pot roast in an electric slow crockery cooker, first cut roast to fit in cooker, if necessary. Trim and brown as directed. If adding vegetables, slice and place in bottom of cooker; place meat atop. Add seasonings and liquid; cover and cook on low-heat setting 8 to 10 hours.

STEP 3: Heat reserved trimmings in dutch oven until about 2 tablespoons fat accumulate. Discard trimmings.

If preferred, you may use 2 tablespoons cooking oil or shortening instead.

STEP 4: Add roast to hot fat. Slowly brown roast on both sides. Use a metal spatula and tongs to turn roast easily.

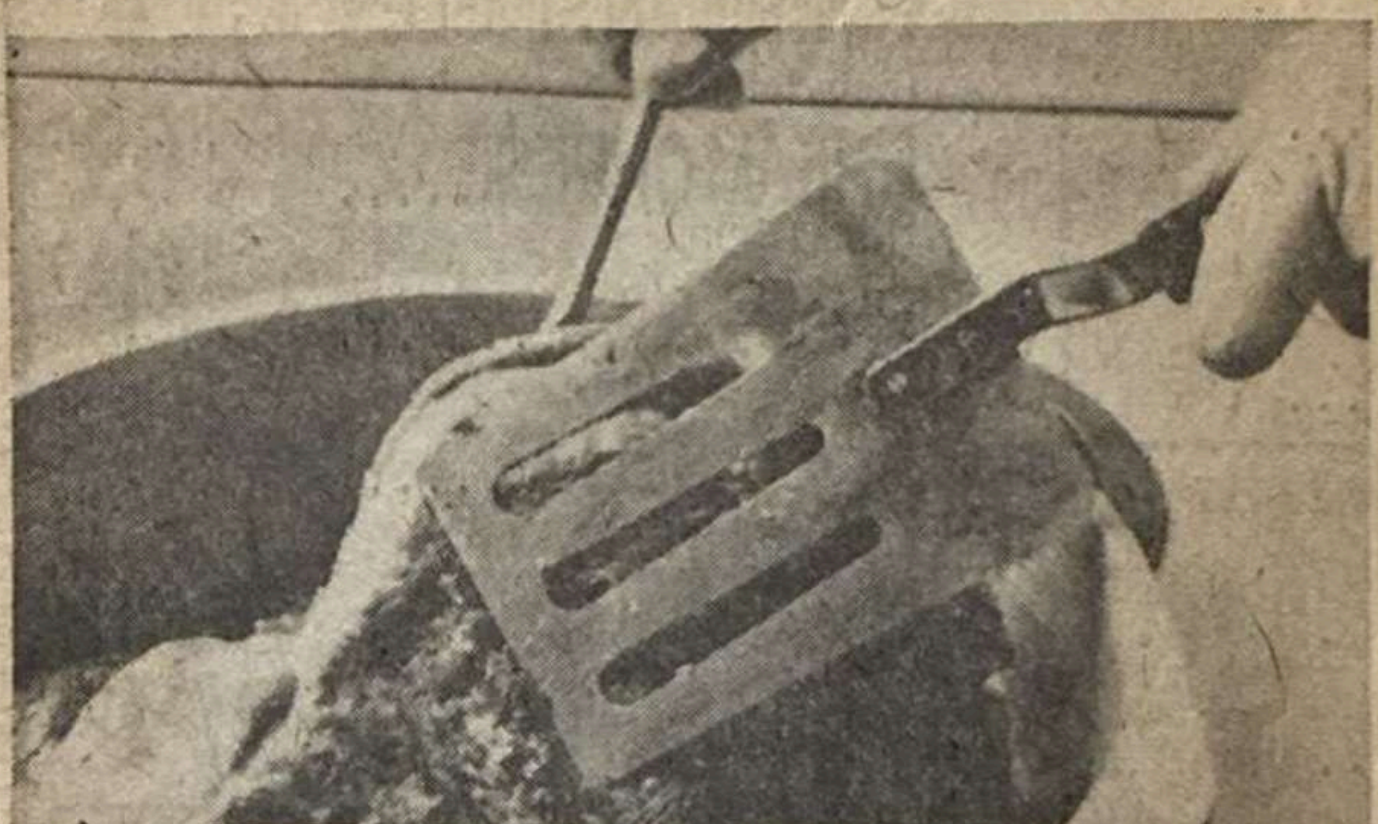
Less tender beef roasts are suitable for pot roasting. Before cooking, trim excess fat from roast as directed.



Add roast to hot fat and brown on both sides. To turn roast easily, use metal spatula and tongs.

After browning, pour water directly onto meat. For change of flavor use othe liquids such as beef broth, apple juice, or beer.

Vegetables are added near the end of cooking. Then cover pan and continue cooking until both vegetables and meat are tender.

Rump roast, cooked on the rotisserie, yields good hot weather eating.

Rotisserie makes rump roast a treat

DURING COLD weather months a roast is one of the easiest entrees to prepare for company. A rotisserie-cooked rump roast is equally simple to prepare for summer guests. It also is one of the more economical beef roasts available.

Since the cut is considered one of the less tender roasts, it will benefit from an overnight marinating in a mixture of oil and acid ingredients, which later can be used as a sauce brush-on during cooking.

Tart lemon and tomato juices are the base for the marinade, which is enhanced with a soupcon of onion and two assertive seasoners, cumin and marjoram. Both will release an inviting aroma during cooking.

To round out your company meal, add such homestyle accompaniments as corn on the cob, creamy coleslaw, or marinated cucumber slices, potato salad, and fresh hamburger buns.

Marinated rotisserie rump roast

12 to 16 servings

1 boneless beef rump roast (4 to 6 pounds), rolled, tied
1 cup tomato juice
⅓ cup lemon juice
¼ cup oil
1 tablespoon each: sugar, minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon each: ground cumin, ground marjoram
Flour to thicken sauce, optional

For the grill

Put beef roast in large plastic bag. Combine tomato juice, lemon juice, oil, sugar, minced onion, and seasonings in small saucepan. Cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally; cool. Add marinade to plastic bag. Press out air and seal bag. Put in pan and marinate in refrigerator overnight, turning several times. Remove meat from marinade; save marinade.

Insert rotisserie rod through center of roast and test for balance by rotating rod in the palms of hands. Tighten spit forks so roast turns only with rod. Insert roast meat thermometer (at an angle so it will clear the cooking unit and drip pan) so the tip is centered in the roast and does not rest in fat or on rod. Put on rotisserie and roast at low to moderate temperature to degree of doneness preferred: 140 degrees Fahrenheit for rare, 160 degrees for medium. Allow 30 to 40 minutes per pound. Brush roast with marinade during cooking. Thicken remaining marinade with flour, if you wish. Slice and serve plain, or in warm buns.
